

REVISITS THE WEST AFTER TEN YEARS

J. T. Sheridan, Head of the Prairie Chamber of Commerce, Says Alberta's Development of Economic Surprise Him More Than Anything Else—Sees Bright Future for the West.

The wonderful growth of Edmonton in what seems to me now on the part of the west, has been the one year since I have been in this city, and I need not say that when I arrived here the other day I was astonished at the progress that has been made.

This statement was made to a Bulletin representative by J. T. Sheridan, the president of the Prairie Chamber of Commerce, who, in company with Mr. C. W. Carlson, of the Peavey, and Mr. C. W. Whiting, is visiting the important sections of the west.

Fifteen Years Ago.

"The citizens of Edmonton, it is fifteen years ago since I first saw Edmonton, were a small, struggling town, straggling with a building here and there. I was out here for my health, and I was disappointed in a little schoolhouse and a church on Jasper Avenue. The importance of the town I wondered why it had built away out there. Today it is an important location, but is in the heart of the city."

Yours faithfully,

J. B. FRASER.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF EDMONTON:

Being convinced that it is the wish of Edmonton's most progressive and leading citizens that I should be one of their candidates, and in view of the fact that there is no city in the west that has such fine public buildings and equipment as Edmonton, I desire to be a candidate for any number of offices and residences here that require a large amount of space, that is, the walls of the city have been substantial and permanent.

Individually, First.

"How can I add to Edmonton any business significance?" Mr. Sheridan was asked.

"No, I can not say that I have, other than the fact that I want to keep up with the times. I have been here a long time, and have done the best business where few buildings have been built. I am not sure that my experience and foresight can be of any value to the town, but I am sure that there is no city in the west that has such fine public buildings and equipment as Edmonton. These are the walls of the city have been substantial and permanent."

Wolsey Underwear.

"What is your opinion of Edmonton as a future industrial centre, Mr. Sheridan?"

"'Play at your coal,' was the reply, "where there is coal of quality, you have business, industry, art, and so on, to support it. You can expect the industrial development to be gradual. Then all of these factors have to be brought together, and these have to be freighted a long distance from the east, and you have to pay a high freight, although in the additional transcontinental line, you will be able to get a good market. The next step in the development of manufacturing here, of course, will be the manufacturing of certain articles in order to save the freight cost, and this will be the beginning of the complete industrial concern."

The Lifting.

Speaking of the financial situation of the east and west, Mr. Sheridan said that the east has been held down so long in the money market is not quite so bad as the west, but the east has not hurt industry very much. After the failure of the last year, there will be little money to meet their payments, and the banks would be accustomed to it. I am sure the payment of the east found themselves hard pressed for funds at all around. This year, however, finds things much improved. Stocks in demand are up, and the money market is in a position that the east and west are entering on a year of unprecedented prosperity."

"One thing is certain," said Mr. Sheridan, "the West is here to stay. Edmonton will have a full share of the development."

THE U.S. TARIFF REVISION.

Committee Will Ask For More Extended Powers.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Determined to bring before it those who have criticized its handling of the revision of the tariff, and satisfied that such is of great importance, the House will call for an immediate vote on the bill can be undertaken, the ways and means committee of the house will require the introduction of a committee to subpoena witnesses to appear at the supplementary hearing on the bill.

The committee has been holding sessions which have lasted into the night and afternoon, and that have been extremely controversial, time has been wasted and two frequently one side or the other has been pressed to the committee.

Witnesses have also been, in many cases, called before the committee with adequate information to meet the legislative cost of labor and the time of the members.

J. W. Van Cleve, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and A. H. Miller, chairman of the tariff committee of the Senate organization, have frequently attacked the methods used by the way and means committee in the preparation of the bill.

Witnesses have also been, in many cases, called before the committee with adequate information to meet the legislative cost of labor and the time of the members.

The wishes of the committee to get at the facts with regard to tariff revision, and the desire of the Senate to have Chairman Payne, for the "stand pat" Champ Clark, for the minutes, members of the committee and by several Republican members who are understood to represent the views of the president, Taft.

The committee's authority to subpoena witnesses and to hold as many hearings as will be found necessary, has been under consideration.

"Vermin's Bright Prospects." "Al. Vermilion, the party of visiting editors, who have been sent out to inspect the country, and were greatly impressed with the appearance of the surrounding country, and the opportunities for the north of the Saskatchewan in this country, awaiting settlement and development. They have said that it is possible to assume that in this future progress, not only shall Vermilion take a large share, but that the other settlements cannot do otherwise than greatly advance the material interests of the country."

"Here we were shown the sights of the city and then rendered a dance at the hotel. The time flew by, and the night and we had a gay and gay time. All the young men from the north were there, and we were all in high spirits and were attired in their best "fashions" and "fashions". We were the first to arrive, and were the last to leave. SPORTING NEWS

THE RING.

POTTS-LAUDER AGREEMENT. A fine time drew many interest in the bout arranged between Jimmie Potts, of the Potts Club, and Lauder, of Calgary, increases, and there is every prospect of the attendance at the contest being record-breaking for one. Both men are known to be on the level and the public are thereby assured that the bout will be a contest ever pulled off in this city. The defeat of Lauder in Calgary by Merle does not affect the record of the participation of the doughty little Scot. It is generally conceded that this bout will be even, and that the decision should have been a draw. Supporters of Lauder are confident that he will make a valiant stand against Potts, and as a proof of their confidence they are backing the man heavily. The promoters of the bout himself, said about the bout in Calgary, that the decision should have been drawn, and very likely, however, that he can beat Lauder, and Edmund Morris, who have seen him at work know that he will not let the scoundrel man a merry race.

The Canadian Athletic Association of Edmonton, agreed to pay the boxers $60 per cent. as a bonus to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser.

The boxers agree to weigh at 133 pounds at three o'clock on the day of the bout. The maximum weight of the gloves is not to exceed six ounces.

5. Each boxer agrees to post $100 with the referee to be held in case of forfeit for weight and appearance.

6. If either boxer is over weight, the forfeit will be held in case of a draw to claim the same, the said boxer must agree to box opponent if not made up to weight.

In case of the non-appearance of either man, the said forfeit goes to the club which holds the right to find a substitute.

8. It is agreed that the complimentary tickets issued shall not exceed 20.

9. The referee shall be appointed by the promoters and must be satisfactory to both principals.

The boxers agree to box at such a hall or place, as the club may select.

11. Forfeit money must be posted by December 12th, 1908.

12. Soft handgels shall be allowed, not exceeding 24 inches.

For Potts—W. Stewart.

AN UNFAIR DECISION.

That the decision in favor of Merle in his bout with Lauder in Calgary on the 17th, was a very bad one, not at all popular with the majority of Calgary sportsmen is evidenced by the following statement made up from the southern town. At first, the referee, is coming in for a great deal of criticism, and for a few days, and Calgary since the bout is not by any means a bed of roses for him.

Here is part of the Calgary Athlete's comment on the match and decision.

"Referee Alf. Fidler made a mistake and a big one at that in giving Merle the bout. Lauder had the better of the fight, and were very hostile with the decision, and several men who even had money on Lauder, had the same opinion that they had made a lucky win."

Taking the contest all through, both men had an even number of points. If anything, Lauder had the most, but the referee made a bad decision. While Lauder did the leading and forced the battle, and showed decided signs of being the better boxer, landed time after time with a cross right which caught Lauder as he was coming in, and Lauder was down on the ropes once, and knocked him down in the eighth with a right that caught him in the eye. After a severe check, and Lauder was up before the referee even thought of counting.

Lauder continually scored points throughout the bout, but let Lauder to Merle, and the referee gave Lauder a right swing to the wind.

Jimmie Potts, the Minneapolis boxer, who was to meet Lauder in Edmonton on the 17th, was at the ring, and after the fight said: "The bout was a very bad one, and a very bad luck indeed to lose the championship on such a decision, and I think Lauder had the better of the bout as Merle did."

McDonald, of the Edmonton Athlete Club, who is promoting the Lauder-Potts bout, said: "Lauder won, taking points into consideration, and the leading and forcing all the time."

Billy Stewart was sore and said: "We had a draw, and one of the worst draws I ever saw handed out to a man."

McFerren said: "Of course I expect some one to come along and kick Billy, but I don't like losing, and I am not a fight decision as we got this time."

Jimmie Reid, manager of Eddie Morris' club, said: "I am not in the decision and had no kick coming."

CURLING.

VEGREVILLE STARTS CURLING. Dec. 4.—A meeting of three interested parties of the curling club was held in the "Teen Hotel" on Thursday night. Over twenty knightly sportsmen of the curling club were present and enthusiasm ran high. Every effort was made to grand success of curling, and it is to be hoped, and Tom Leahy promised to solve the ice question in the near future.

The following were the officers elected for the season: President, F. A. McDonald; M.P.P.; president, Mayor MacNeil; vice-president, Dr. Arthur; and secretary-treasurer, Mr. L. E. Macdonald; secretary-treasurer, Miles Macleines; executive committee, Wm. H. Worth, Dr. Goodwin, W. T. Clements; club manager, Charles Gordon, Mr. Worth, Dr. E. M. Morton, Dr. Field, H. A. Clute. Affiliation with either the Alberta Curling Association or the B.C. Curling Association was discussed, but this portion of the business was held over for a future conference.

W. STANE AN' BESOM. Next week we will be giving the regular curling news and from that time until spring, if the cold weather continues, without a break, there will be five trophies to be played for during the season and a meeting will be called up first for competition. H. V. Shaw, and the Hotel Cecil, have offered to have a round robin competition and a meeting will be held to decide whether these will be accepted. The trophies will be given to the club which is given a list of the members in the various categories.
